

Wild People, Wild Places: SHOWS

Multi-media Slideshows Available for 2010-11:

Pedal Powered Skiing in Arctic Norway – Featuring our month-long, bike-supported, backcountry skiing adventure through Norway's Arctic Alps, where we immersed ourselves in a human-powered adventure unlike any we had experienced before. We climbed and skied mountains from summit to sea, pedaled our bikes under the light of midnight sun, and we discovered a generous, caring and environmentally conscious culture.

Skiing Iceland - Takes viewers backcountry skiing and camping under the midnight sun, sailing and skiing around the country's largest wilderness area, and ski touring among the country's highest peaks. Enjoy inspiring stories, images and video footage captured throughout ten years of human-powered adventuring in this wild and beautiful corner of the world.

Sailing and Skiing Iceland's West Fjords – Featuring our month long backcountry skiing adventure, during which we used a sailboat as a floating basecamp while exploring and skiing through the region's Hornstrandir Nature Reserve – one of Europe's last great wilderness areas.

Skiing Patagonia 2 (aka Endangered Patagonia) – Skiing Chile's the Rio Baker Valley - Featuring our Oct/Nov 2006 backcountry skiing adventure through Chilean Patagonia's endangered Rio Baker Valley and the mountains along the edge of the northern Patagonian Ice Cap.

Off Piste in the Northeast - Takes viewers across the high peaks of the Adirondacks, through the hard-wooded forests of VT, into the ravines of NH's White Mountains and all the way to Quebec's Gaspé Peninsula.

Skiing East Greenland – Backcountry Adventure at the Arctic Circle Featuring our June 2005 climbing/skiing trip to the Arctic Circle and East Greenland's Schweizerland Alps.

Vermont to Alaska – A Backcountry Skiing Adventure From our local Green Mountains to the wild summits of Alaska's Kenai Peninsula, this show takes viewers on a powder-filled, backcountry tour of some of our favorite North American venues.

By Bicycle through the Southern Andes - Takes viewers on the ultimate human-powered adventure through the southern Andes of Chile and Argentina. We spent 80 days pedaling their mountain bikes into the heartland of Chilean Patagonia.

Skiing Patagonia – On Ski Safari through the Southern Andes Featuring our Oct/Nov 2004 backcountry skiing adventure through Chilean and Argentine Patagonia, in which we followed the route that we once spent 80 days pedaling on our mountain bikes.

Off Piste in Vermont – Adventure Skiing in the Green Mountains - Features what today's most prolific backcountry skiers are up to here in Vermont.
